Quadricentennial 400th Quadricentennial 400thQuadricentennial 400th Quadricentennial 400th Quadricentennial

Scenic Lake Champlain was discovered by Samuel de Champlain, a Western European, in 1609. In the same year, sailing for the Dutch East India Company, Henry Hudson discovered the river that bears his name. Robert Fulton invented the Steamboat two hundred years later. All three will be celebrated as part of the Quadricentennial.
